Scholarship Award Evaluation Criteria

Prior Academic Success: Transcripts and academic records will be evaluated.

Essay Requirements: Essays must be typed. Points may be deducted for poor grammar, spelling errors, or lack of neatness. Proofread your work carefully.

Professional/Work History and Experience: Work experience should be limited to the past three years. List your most recent positions first, including any jobs held during high school if within this timeframe. Specify the school year during which you held each position and indicate if your work experience was part of a work-study, co-op, or practicum program. Clearly identify the nature of each employer's business, particularly highlighting any experience in the healthcare industry. Please be thorough and accurate. If necessary, list additional experience on a separate sheet and attach it to your application.

Recommendations: A recommendation is required from someone who is not a family member or close friend. Please use the attached form, as a letter alone is not sufficient. While additional letters are welcome, greater weight will be given to recommendations from individuals with professional experience in healthcare technology management. Ensure the evaluator's contact information is included in your application.

Extracurricular and Volunteer Activities: List all extracurricular and volunteer activities under the appropriate categories and years. Include any leadership roles or offices held in organizations. Be as thorough as possible. If you have no activities to report, simply write "none." The more activities you list, the higher your potential score.

Scholarship Terms and Conditions

Applicants must be accepted to CBET for enrollment in a current program.

All scholarship materials must be submitted to CBET before starting training.

Financial need is not required for needs-based or special group scholarship eligibility.

Applicants may combine external scholarships along with institutional scholarships. Eligibility to do so is entirely dependent on the external scholarship criteria.

Institutional scholarships are not transferable and have no cash value outside of the intended use at the College of Biomedical Equipment Technology. No refunds will be issued if an institutional scholarship creates a credit balance on the student's account.

Eligibility for institutional scholarship awards is determined for each term of obligation. Students must meet specific academic benchmarks each term to maintain their scholarships. After enrollment, scholarship recipients must maintain a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale throughout their academic journey. If they fail to do so, their scholarship or the remaining portion may be withdrawn. Failing a class will prompt the scholarship committee to review the recipient's eligibility, which may result in the scholarship being rescinded.

Students may not combine institutional scholarships with tuition discounts offered by the college. However, students qualified for external scholarships may combine discounts offered by the college and external scholarship awards.

Institutional scholarships are non-transferable.

Institutional scholarships will be forfeited in the event of dismissal, expulsion, or voluntary or involuntary withdrawal.

Students may request reinstatement of institutional scholarships upon readmission if their withdrawal circumstances are deemed mitigating. A written request must be submitted for approval by the scholarship committee.

While scholarships are intended to cover tuition costs, students remain financially responsible for other related fees, such as technical fees, textbooks, and course materials identified in the course catalog. It is essential for students to budget accordingly for these additional expenses to ensure they can fully benefit from their scholarship and have the necessary resources for academic success.
